Hunter's DREAM

"My parents said I was their Greatest Teacher! I taught them unconditional love, faith in God, hope, strength, courage, humility, patience and compassion. Don't forget me! I also hope that you will never forget less fortunate children who will always need your support. Always help those who can't help themselves! I will always have a Dream for a Cure, I hope you do too! God Bless You All!"

Hunter's Dream for a Cure is a non-profit organization established in 2000 by Robb & Wendy Nelson in the name of their son, Hunter, who was diagnosed with Sturge-Weber Syndrome (SWS) when he was seven months old. On May 29th, 2005 we unexpectedly lost Hunter to a massive seizure. Needless to say this has been a monumental & devastating loss. In Hunter's memory our foundation has made a renewed commitment to fight this disease and try to make sure that other families do not have to go through the ultimate tragedy of losing a child! SWS is a rare brain disease with no cure or definitive prognosis for those afflicted with it. Hunter's Dream raises money for children with SWS, other neurological diseases and programs for special needs children. Through our fundraising events, the Dave Diaz-Infante Mark Schlereth Charity Golf Classic, the Celebrity Hunt for a Cure and the Denim & Diamonds Gala featuring Craig Morgan and John Michael Montgomery, we have raised more than $1,000,000 since our inception. Our efforts were recognized in 2004 when we received the Frances Owens Communities Helping Young Children Award presented by the former First Lady of Colorado for demonstrating outstanding support for early childhood intervention and programs for special needs children. In 2005 Robb & Wendy received the Pathways Achievement Award from the state of Colorado, honoring extraordinary achievements for people with disabilities.

Hunter's Dream for a Cure has presented The Kennedy Krieger Institute & Johns Hopkins Sturge-Weber Syndrome Center with checks to date totaling well more than $500,000. Our funding helped establish the Center, which was the first of its kind. As a result of our funding and Hunter's passing, the Center was renamed the Hunter Nelson Sturge-Weber Center. The Center takes a multidisciplinary approach to evaluating and treating all medical issues associated with SWS. Long-term research goals of the Center include the development of clinical trials aimed at improved treatment for those affected by SWS and hopefully an eventual cure.

Hunter's Dream For A Cure has presented $75,000 to Colorado's own Developmental Pathways. The Developmental Pathways funded program assists children with special needs in the public school setting and provides training to teachers. Inspiration Playground has also received $50,000 from Hunter's Dream For A Cure to build the first universally-accessible playground in Colorado. Inspiration Playground is an outdoor play environment that includes safe, state of the art structures that enables every child - able bodied and disabled - to play independently on the same equipment. Other Colorado beneficiaries including Poudre Valley Children's Orthotic & Prosthetic Fund, Windsor Boardwalk Playground Project, Early Childhood Intervention, Breckenridge Outdoor Education Center, Wheelin' Sportsman, Outdoors Without Limits, Tony Semple Foundation, Union Colony Children's Music Academy, 24/7 Kids - Support for Families, Inc., Rehabilitation and Visiting Nurse Association and many more have received donations totalling more than $500,000 from Hunter's Dream for a Cure.

Craig Morgan

"Craig Morgan is country music's champion of the Everyman—a loyal husband and father, unblushingly sentimental, tough enough to kick your butt if you cross him, and the kind of friend everyone would like to have." – Music Row magazine

One of country music's best-loved artists, Craig Morgan has made a name for himself with massive radio airplay of his signature hits: "Almost Home"—which was named Music Row Song of the Year in 2003, the chart-topping summer anthem "Redneck Yacht Club," "That's What I Love About Sunday"—which spent five weeks at #1 and was Billboard's Most Played Country Song of the Year in 2005, "Tough" -- a touching ode to the strength of women, and the fan-favorites "International Harvester" and the anthemic "Bonfire." Craig is signed to Sony Entertainment Nashville's BNA Records label and is an esteemed member of the Grand Ole Opry. And now Craig is the star of his own TV series, Craig Morgan: All Access Outdoors which airs on the Outdoor Channel.

Aaron Taylor

Aaron Taylor is truly an all time University of Nebraska great! He played for the Huskers from 1994-1997 at Offensive Guard/Center. He was drafted by the Indianapolis Colts in 1998. While a member of the huskers he was the 1997 Outland Trophy Winner, a 1997 Consensus All-American, a 1996 Consensus All-American, 1995 All Big 8 and the Only Husker to earn All-America honors at two different positions.

Emmanuel Lewis

Emmanuel Lewis is best known for playing Webster in the 1980s sitcom Webster. Webster was a top-rated ABC sitcom for several years before bowing out in 1987. Lewis was nominated for four Young Artist Awards. At the same time, Lewis also was the child spokesperson for the Burger King Whopper. He has appeared in Kickin' It Old Skool, in which he had a cameo appearance. He is depicted in "The F Word", an episode of South Park, in which he was portrayed as the head editor of the dictionary. He appeared in approximately sixty commercials. In June of 2000 he branched out into music, creating a multi-million dollar recording studio on the grounds of his 12-acre Atlanta estate and establishing the Emmanuel Lewis Entertainment record label.

Gerald McRaney

Gerald McRaney is an accomplished television and movie actor. McRaney is best known as one of the stars of the 1980s television shows Simon & Simon and Major Dad. He will star in Undercovers, an upcoming television series created by J.J Abrams. McRaney holds the distinction of being the last guest star to meet Marshal Matt Dillon in a gunfight on Gunsmoke, in the episode "Hard Labor," which was first broadcast on February 24, 1975. He has appeared in episodes of The Rockford Files, Hawaii Five-O, The Incredible Hulk, Designing Women, The West Wing, Deadwood, Jericho and many other shows. He is married to actress Delta Burke. Gerald is a member of the National Rifle Association and is a Co-Host of the popular TV show World of Beretta.

Jim Jensen

Jim Jensen earned 8 varsity letters at the University of Iowa, 4 in football and 4 in track & field. He was drafted in the 2nd round of the 1976 NFL draft by the Dallas Cowboys. He was traded to the Denver Broncos in 1977 and played in Super Bowl XII that year against his former teammates. He was a versatile running back and led the Broncos in rushing and number of receptions in 1980. In 1981 he signed as a free agent with the Green Bay Packers and played there for two seasons. Bart Starr was his coach at Green Bay and in 1982 the Packers made their first appearance in the play offs after a 10 year drought. He has three children: Jessica, Cody and Jack, and one brother Andy. He was inducted into the Iowa High School Sports Hall of Fame in 1988 and the Quad Cities Sports Hall of Fame in 2002. He currently lives in Windsor, CO with his wife Dawn and is VP of Marketing for Water Valley (www.watervalley.com) Jim is a board member for Hunter's Dream for a Cure.

Joel Makovicka

Joel Makovicka is a former NFL football fullback who played for the Arizona Cardinals (1999-2002). One of the most decorated fullbacks in Husker history, Joel Makovicka owns the school record with 13 career touchdowns as a fullback for Nebraska from 1995 to 1998.

During his stay at Nebraska, Makovicka was a two-time first-team academic All-American and three-time first-team academic All-Big 12 performer. He also was a member of three national championship teams. The younger brother of another Husker walk-on fullback from Brainard, Neb., Jeff Makovicka, Joel finished his career with 1,447 yards rushing on an average of 5.9 yards per carry while making 22 starts for the red and white. As a junior he produced the fourth-highest rushing total by a fullback in school history with 685 yards. He was drafted by the Arizona Cardinals in the fourth round of the 1999 NFL Draft and started 10 games at fullback for the Cardinals as a rookie.

Chuck Foreman

Chuck Foreman was selected with the 12th overall pick in the NFL draft. He was a consensus choice as the National Football Conference (NFC) Rookie of the Year in 1973. Foreman was named NFC player of the year by The Sporting News in 1974 and by UPI in 1976. He was named All-Pro in 1975 and played in five consecutive Pro Bowls (1973-1977). Foreman had 3 straight seasons rushing for 1,000+ yards (1975-1977) and scored a then NFC record 22 Touchdowns in 14 games during the 1975 campaign. Foreman just missed a rare NFC 'Triple Crown' (rushing yards, receptions & TDs) in 1975 as well. Foreman played in 3 Super Bowls with the Vikings. In 2005 the College Football Hall of Fame honored Chuck with the Community Service Award. In 2007 he was inducted to the Minnesota Vikings Ring of Honor.

Shjon Podein

Shjon Podein played for the Edmonton Oilers, Philadelphia Flyers, Colorado Avalanche, St. Louis Blues and over the course of a 699-game NHL career. Shjon assumed his role as top penalty-killer with the Avalanche while helping Colorado capture the Stanley Cup in the 2000-01 season. Shjon is often remembered for wearing his uniform for a full 25 hours after the game. It was also in 1997 that Shjon and Sherry founded the Shjon Podein Children's Foundation to help kids facing extraordinary difficulties in their lives. Shjon became the first NHL player to join the Garth Brooks Teammates For Kids Foundation and is an NHL spokesman for Teammates. The Foundation that contributes monies to non-profits who effectively serve and benefit children in areas of health, education, and inner city services. Podein was noted for his immense dedication to charity work and youth hockey programs. As a result Podein was awarded the King Clancy Memorial Trophy in 2001.

Ryan Klesko

Ryan Klesko loves to hunt and fish. But he is known for playing 13 years in the major leagues with the Atlanta Braves, San Diego Padres and San Francisco Giants. He won a World Series ring with the Braves in 1995. His .525 slugging percentage as a Brave ranks 4th all-time among the team's career leaders.

Klesko became the first player to hit a home run in three consecutive World Series road games when he did so against the Cleveland Indians in Games 3, 4, and 5 of the 1995 World Series. While in San Diego, he served as the club's spokesperson for the Make-A-Wish-Foundation hosting Make-A-Wish children for batting practice, a pregame ceremony and a ballgame each home stand. This involvement has now lead to his Blue Ryno Foundation, which provides support to the families of terminally ill children. Klesko has been an active supporter of Hunter's Dream for a Cure. He and his wife, Kelly also have a son named Hunter. Ryan hosts a TV show called Grand Slam Adventures.

Steve & Jodie Ries

Steve & Jodie Ries are celebrities in anyone's opinion. They lost their son Ben shortly after Hunter passed away in 2005. We have always said that in Heaven Ben is a big brother to Hunter and the two of them are playing with dogs and hunting pheasants together whenever they can! Steve & Jodie run a foundation very similar to Hunter's Dream for a Cure that raises money for the many children and Families at the University of Iowa Children's Hospital and Children's Miracle Network that are confronted with cancer. Information on the hunt that they host annually can be found at www.aimingforacure.com Steve, Jodie and their daughter Rachel reside in Alburnett, Iowa on an acreage with their family business in raising hunting dogs.

Todd Lodwick

Todd is an Olympic skier and by many accounts the most successful North American in Nordic combined skiing ever. In 2009 he became world champion in Nordic combined. During his international career between 1993 and 2006 he participated in seven World Championships, five Winter Olympics and 162

World Cup events. His greatest successes have been 6 World Cup wins. He finished in Top Ten of the World Cup overall standings eight consecutive years and has won 19 US-championships. He retired in 2006, but returned to competition in 2008, setting his sights on making the team for the 2010 Olympics. In February 2009 at the World Championships in Liberec, he won two gold medals in Nordic combined. He made the US team for the 2010 Winter Olympics. Todd is really into hunting and the outdoors. Shooting his bow and playing a lot of golf top his list. Also hanging out with his wife Sunny and two children Charley and Finn when I'm not traveling the world and competing are on the top of his list!

Dave "Doc" Diaz-Infante

Doc's journey has certainly been unique. A former NFL guard and center who played for the Chargers, Broncos and Eagles. The Washington Times dubbed him "The Ultimate Underdog" saying, "perhaps no player in Super Bowl history has traveled a harder path to the Super Bowl than Diaz-Infante". His career spanned 16 years covering the 80's, 90's and 2000's. A veteran of 16 training camps, he made his debut with the Chargers during the 1987 strike and did not play another game until the 1996 season. He is believed to be the oldest player ever to make his first NFL start at the age of 32. He won two Super Bowl Championships with the Broncos: XXXII and XXXIII. Since retirement 2002, Doc has been one of the most recognizable media personalities in the Denver area and a role model for Hispanics across the country. Currently, he is a College Football Analyst for ESPNU and ESPN. He lives in Phoenix with his wife Audra and children Dante and Alexis. He is one of the original founding board members of Hunter's Dream for a Cure.

As Hunter's parents we were prepared for the challenges that a special needs child brings and we were willing to do whatever was needed to give him the best. Despite Hunter's challenges he was fully expected to live as long as any healthy child. He lived his life and filled our lives with unbridled joy and happiness. His infectious smile and laugh affected many. Hunter's death was a shock and a truly devastating loss for us. We never expected to be living life without him! During his far too short life he brought many people together for the greater good of helping children who cannot help themselves. We can not thank you enough for the overwhelming support you have given our family and the foundation over the past five years!

Losing Hunter was an unexpected tragedy and we have had to learn that there is truly no greater loss in life! We can only plead that you help us and Hunter's Dream for a Cure to do everything we can to prevent this from happening to others No one should have to experience what we have gone through. With you help we are making a difference in finding better treatment for this disease and improving the quality of life of special needs children in our community! In Hunter's name please help us!

God Bless You, Robb, Wendy & Brady Nelson

Potential

Hunter's Dream for a Cure Lives On at the Hunter Nelson Sturge-Weber Center at Kennedy Krieger Institute

November 5, 1999 - May 29, 2005

Hunter Nelson was five years old when he died on May 29, 2005. His death was sudden, unexpected and presumed to be caused by a seizure that overtook him while he slept in his home in Englewood, Colorado home where he lived with his parents Wendy and Robb and older brother, Brady. Until the time of his death, Hunter was an active 5 year old who experienced all the joys of childhood in spite of the fact that for much of his short life he intermittently experienced uncontrollable seizures and other symptoms associated with Sturge-Weber syndrome: a neurological disorder discernable by a congenital facial birthmark known as a "port wine stain," and characterized by abnormal vessels on the surface of the brain.

It was not until Hunter suffered a seizure at seven-months-old that his condition was diagnosed. Sturge-Weber syndrome is rare and because port wine stains do not always indicate the disorder, it is often not diagnosed until seizures occur. The toll exacted by this degenerative syndrome may include neurological damage, weakening or loss of the use of one side of the body, delays in development, glaucoma, and vision impairments. Hunter experienced many of these symptoms in his short life as well as the unpleasant side effects from medications administered to control them. Yet, through it all he displayed what Dr. Anne Comi, Director of the Hunter Nelson Sturge-Weber Center at Kennedy Krieger, fondly remembers as a "charming innocence and spirited determination." These qualities not only enriched the lives of family and friends; they reinforced the resolve of doctors at Kennedy Krieger to continue their clinical and research efforts in behalf of children with Sturge-Weber syndrome.

The Hunter Nelson Sturge-Weber Center at Kennedy Krieger is the only facility in the United States dedicated to clinical treatment, family education and research concerning Sturge-Weber syndrome. The center was recently renamed in Hunter's memory and in recognition of $500,000 in funding from Hunter's Dream for a Cure. According to Robb Nelson, "Dr. Comi has brought together an exceptional team of specialists at the Kennedy Krieger center. They are doing important research into causes, treatment, and possible cures. In Hunter's memory, our foundation has made a renewed commitment to fighting this disease by supporting their work. It is our hope that through their efforts, other families will be spared the ultimate tragedy of losing a child to Sturge-Weber."
